The applicant must also be a student member of the APS or have an application in process. Note: The APS does not currently offer scholarships.

Tuition: N/A

Stipend: Annual stipends under the Porter Physiology Development Fellowship Program are $28,300. There is no dependency allowance. No tuition or fees will be paid by the Porter Program on behalf of the fellow since the Committee believes that graduate scholarships and other educational allowances are available at most institutions. In addition, funds for research support will be the responsibility of the training institution. A fellow may not accept private employment or another similar fellowship stipend simultaneously.

Other: Fellows will be required to be enrolled full-time in a program leading to the PhD or DSc in the physiological sciences.
